The Daily Oregonian.

THURSDAY MORNING, SEPT. 13, 1866.

Governor's Message.

We publish this morning the second biennial message of Gov. Gibbs. Its leading features—those which relate to the Insane Asylum and to our Common School System—are of unusual interest. The reasons for a change in the management of the Asylum are strongly and clearly stated, and should have weight with the Legislature. There is urgent need for reform in the method of providing for those unfortunate persons who have to be taken care of by the State. While the people are more than willing to care for these persons with tender humanity, they see no reason why more money should be paid for it than is necessary for their proper support, medical attendance, instruction, &c. As the matter is managed at present, the care of the insane falls more heavily on the tax-payers of the State than it would under other and equally good regulations, which may readily be adopted. The whole subject is ably argued in the message, and the reasons for the proposed change stated with great force.

The subject of Common Schools is likely to receive much consideration the present session. Almost everybody is calling for a new school law. That this is a subject which requires much careful and patient study preparatory to intelligent legislation, is abundantly shown by the multitude of school laws we have had, all equally unsuited to the wants of the State, and all alike failing to satisfy the people.

There are other features of the message which we shall hereafter allude to.

Not a Success.

The man who boasts of having a "policy," set out from Washington a fortnight ago to acquaint himself with the temper of the people throughout the Middle and Western States. It is to be hoped that by this time he has acquired the needed information. He will reach home a wiser man,—if a low demagogue of violent passions, coarse instincts and unexampled self-conceit, can, by any possibility, be taught that species of wisdom of which he stands most in need. By this time he is probably convinced that he is not the most popular man that ever held the office of President of the United States. Hereafter, his speeches, instead of being divided between encomiums on Andrew Johnson and demagogical appeals to "the people," will necessarily be devoted wholly to himself. No longer will it be "me and the people;" but "me," singly and alone.

For many months before he started on this journey, the President was surrounded by abject flatterers who courted his favor by proclaiming him the greatest of living men, and who constantly extolled his "policy" as a miracle of wisdom and consummate statesmanship. This class being his only companions, he was easily persuaded that the masses of the people looked upon him with equal admiration, and that his opponents were as contemptible in point of numbers as he had tried to make them appear in point of character. It is presumed that by this time he has seen his mistake. His journey has not been a triumphal march. The reception he has met on numerous occasions have not been remarkably flattering. The welcomes he has received at many points in his tour have not been of a kind very well calculated to gratify one whose leading motive is an inordinate vanity, with a corresponding desire for popular applause. The trip is not a success.

It is to be regretted that the President has not been treated everywhere with respect, though Andrew Johnson deserves none. His conduct has been such that, except in virtue of his office, he is entitled to no more respectful treatment than he has received. He has met no assemblage of persons half so indecorous in manner and speech as himself. At the very outset of his tour he intemperately denounced three-fourths of both Houses of Congress, with the twenty millions of citizens who support that body, as "traitors." At another time he so far indulged his natural propensities, as to hardy abusive and scurrilous epithets with irresponsible persons in a crowded audience. How can he complain of the conduct of the people towards him when his own deportment is that of a low-bred politician, instead of that which would become the Chief Magistrate of a nation? A miscellaneous crowd cannot be expected to behave with greater propriety than a President. We say this regretfully; for it is shameful to witness among any class of people that total want of dignity and and proper deportment which characterizes the man who is now President of the United States.

The electioneering tour is in every sense a failure. It has weakened his cause instead of giving him strength before the people. The arts and appliances he was wont to use for his political advancement in Tennessee, have failed to do him a like service in the States of the North. If he is yet unable to to comprehend the situation, he will surely be enlightened in regard to it before the end of the first half of his term. His vaunted tour for the overthrow of Congress, is ending in his own discomfiture and humiliation.

The New York Tribune exults over the result of the Kentucky election as a rebuke to Congress. That was undoubtedly the idea of the paroled rebel soldiers who carried the election. An Ohio paper says:

"During Vallandigham's speech at Louisville, he made references to McClellan, Buell, Lee, Johnston, Grant and Sherman as being names that belonged to the nation in common. At the mention of the names of Lee and Johnston one loud and prolonged yell echoed through the house for at least five minutes, but at the mention of Grant and Sherman, one universal strain of hisses rang out sharp and clear for the same length of time."

General Miller, Collector of Customs, at San Francisco, an old warrior of the late conflict, opposes Johnson, and it is expected that his place will soon be occupied by one of the F. F. V.'s, and the Custom House revert back to its old use as a poor house for Virginia paupers.

Gov. Murphy, the ardent loyalist of Arkansas, writes to Washington that Johnson's policy has ruined the Union cause in that State; that impenitent rebels are now omnipotent there, and that all is lost that was gained by the valor of our soldiers.

The Union Association of the Ninth New York District has unanimously repudiated its Representative in Congress, Henry J. Raymond.

NEW GOLD DISCOVERIES.—The following is from the Helena Republican of the 25th ult.: Reliable information has reached us from Salmon. In the early portion of this month a number of Californians were returning to the coast, disgusted with Montana, and were prospecting on the way. When about sixteen miles south-west of Fort Lemhi and on the headwaters of the Salmon river, they entered a large basin between twenty and thirty miles across. In this valley was another basin or gulch from fifteen to twenty miles long, which was found to prospect throughout its entire length at the rate of from five cents to one and a quarter dollars to the pan. The gold is said to bear a curious resemblance to grains of wheat in both size and color, and the diggings are very similar to those of the Boise basin. The gulch varies in width from a quarter of a mile to one and a half miles, and is supplied with about eight sluice-heads of water. About two thousand men are now in the diggings, principally stampeders from Elk creek and Bear City. The new Salmon river mines are about one hundred and eighty-five miles from Deer Lodge, and one hundred and fifty miles from Bannack City, by an excellent road. If we are rightly informed they are destroyer the Montana line in Idaho."

The New York Tribune gets off the following. We say "ditto to Mr. Burke:"

If there is one thing we enjoy more than another it is the removal of a good Republican from office. The deed seems to give him new life. His voice grows full and strong. A manly love of freedom suffuses his face. He yearns to go at once to the battle and snuffs the sound of combat afar off. His devotion to principle becomes lusty and uncontrollable. He begins to work for his living, doing real work over hay and corn and not imaginary labors among tape and sealing-wax. Every vote is for freedom and every aspiration is for the triumph of truth. We hope the President will keep on removing office-holders, for we want all the earnest men that can be found.

FROM THE CAPITAL.

[SPECIAL TO THE OREGONIAN.]

SALEM, Sept. 12, 1866.

The Governor's Message was delivered to the Legislature this forenoon.

The vote for Governor was canvassed by the Legislature, showing the whole vote to be 20,258, of which George, L. Woods received 10,316 and James K. Kelly 10,839. Gov. Woods was inaugurated at three o'clock this afternoon.

OREGON LEGISLATURE.

Fourth Regular Session.

SENATE.

TUESDAY, Sept. 11, 1866.

The session was opened with prayer by Rev. Dr. Leslie.

On motion of Mr. PALMER, a select committee was appointed to report rules for permanent government of the Senate. The President appointed Messrs. Palmer, Holmes and Page.

Mr. HUSTON moved the appointment of a Committee on Credentials.

On this motion Mr. JOHNSON said: This motion strikes me to be something singular. I cannot see precisely what is the object of raising such a committee. The Secretaries fully organized body—its members sworn in. The only question in relation to organization which can possibly arise now is, that in case that some other person than the ones sworn, should position to be established in his right to a seat now held by some other person. We are sworn in as members of the State, and a Committee on Credentials could not inquire into our right to exercise the functions of our offices. The Committee on Elections, to be hereafter appointed, is the proper committee to inquire into and report upon the tenure by which we hold seats here. No other can make this inquiry. The Committee on Credentials is, therefore, unnecessary, and I shall vote against the motion. No other State that I know of furnishes a precedent for a Committee on Credentials.

Mr. HUSTON. Thornton to refer to a Committee on Credentials may be an exception in other States,—I do not know—but it is not an exception in the State of Oregon. Here Mr. H. read from journal of last session, showing that at a certain stage in the proceedings, a Committee on Credentials was appointed. We have the precedent of this Senate. If the preceding was correct at one time, it is correct now. On the list furnished here, I see the name of "Jefferson" from Polk county, "Bonn" from Baker. I do not know of any such men on this floor. I want this committee, in order that we may know who are entitled to seats.

Mr. DRYSDALE. I think there is no doubt that all deliberative bodies have committees on credentials. It is the only method I know of to ascertain who are entitled to seats. It is important to the dignity of the Senate to know who are entitled to seats. I see here that one "Jefferson" is returned as a Senator from Polk county. That is not my name, and I claim to be the rightful occupant of the seat from that county. I have the certificate of election from the court of that county. There may be errors in the names of other Senators for aught I know. I think it essential to the dignity of the senate and to the rights of its members to know who are the Senators.

Mr. PALMER. It is true, it has been the custom in this body to appoint a committee on credentials. Beside this State, there is but one other that has followed this custom. The reason why I have ever been opposed to it is that where there was no law prescribing the method of ascertaining who are members, it is the only way to learn, in the first instance of organization, who are entitled to sit and vote. The custom obtained in this State because in early days, before there was any law on the subject, that course was pursued and nobody since had objected to it. But we have a law by which we can learn authoritatively who are entitled to take seats here and vote in the organization of the Legislature. The returns of the election are required to be sent up from the counties to the Secretary of State. This makes an official record and information as officially who are elected. There can be no necessity therefore for a committee to investigate. If it had been necessary at all, it would have been necessary before the organization had commenced, and not after the Senate is organized. There is to be a Committee on Elections, which will be the proper committee to act in case of any contest. That committee may send for persons and papers and report the facts and no adverse claimant. There is no necessity for a committee on credentials and it could do nothing.

Mr. HUSTON. We are here acting as Senators without knowing who are entitled to act. If we can so do, any other body of men may get together and assume to be the Senate of Oregon. I cannot see that we have anything to do, or that we can do fully do anything until we know who are legally elected and authorized to act. We have had the secretary's list, but nothing else. I have seen no credentials, and I do not know who are members. I do not believe our action, under such circumstances, will be legal.

Mr. CARTWRIGHT. Returns are required by law to be made to the Secretary of State, by the clerks of counties, and such returns are made under oath. The returns furnish the secretary with the names of members who are elected to the Legislature. The secretary has furnished us with a certified list of members as returned to him by county clerks. We know, therefore, we have rights here. The custom to have a Committee on Credentials is useless, unlawful and wrong in practice, because, under that custom, anybody may come in here, take seats and vote in the first steps of an organization. Acting under the law, this is prevented because from the very first movement of coming here we know from the Secretary's list who are members. As a case in point, on yesterday a person came in here claiming a seat held by another, and asserting that he had a right to do so under the old custom of relying upon a Committee on Credentials, both of those men might have voted on the initial measures of the organization. If we had a Committee on Credentials, it must go to the record in the Secretary's office for proof of election. The Secretary has furnished us that record and we know who are elected. The only question anybody can raise is that of the right of the sitting member from Grant county—whether he or the contestant is entitled to the seat. The Committee on Elections may act on that report, and we, being sworn in, may vote upon it. This is the proper, regular mode of procedure. A Committee on Credentials could do nothing in the premises.

Mr. THORN wished to explain. The Constitution provides that each house shall be the judge of the election of its own members, but does not prescribe any particular manner of proceeding. That is left to our choice. We may do it by a Committee on Credentials if we choose.

Mr. PYLE. There are precedents for appointment of a committee on credentials, in this State, and in one otherwise so far as I know. But that precedent is for committee before organization. There is no precedent here or anywhere for such a committee after organization. The office of such a committee is to learn who have credentials of election. It cannot inquire into or try contests; can only inquire as to who are prima facie members. It cannot go outside of the record, nor can it take testimony. In determining the question of a right to sit here the record only is to guide us. We have the record, which is to us, from the Secretary of State, and the prima facie members, as appears from the record, are sworn in and the Senate is fully organized. There is no use for this committee—nothing for it to do. The matter of contested seats can go only to the committee on elections. The appointment of a committee on credentials would only result in delay without accomplishing anything.

Mr. HUSTON. With the consent of my second I will withdraw the motion.

The motion was withdrawn.

A message was received from the House informing the Senate that the House was fully organized. [See House proceedings for list of officers.]

Mr. JOHNSON offered a resolution which was adopted, authorizing the President to invite the various regularly ordained ministers of the city to open each morning's session with prayer.

Mr. PYLE offered S. J. R. 1, to provide for a joint committee to report joint rules; which was adopted and Messrs. Pyle, Jeffries and Donnell were appointed on the part of the Senate.

Mr. PALMER offered S. J. R. 2, for a joint committee to wait on the Governor and inform him that the Legislative Assembly is organized and ready to receive any communication he may have to make. The resolution was adopted and Messrs Palmer, Bayley and Ford were appointed committee on the part of the Senate.

Mr. CRANSTON offered a resolution which was adopted, that the Senate will meet at ten o'clock A. M. and two o'clock P. M. till further ordered.

The Senate adjourned.

AFTERNOON SESSION.—Mr. PALMER, from Committee to draft rules for government of the Senate, reported rules, substantially the same as last session, with a Committee on Federal Relations added. His report and the rules were adopted.

On motion of Mr. PYLE, 100 copies of the rules were ordered printed.

Mr. JOHNSON offered a resolution, which was adopted, requesting the Secretary of State to furnish each member with a copy of "the general laws relating to elections in Oregon, together with the Constitution of the State."

Mr. JEFFRIES offered the following resolutions, which were adopted by an unanimous vote.

Whereas, It has pleased an All-wise Providence to remove from our midst, during the adjournment of the Senate, a member of this body, therefore, be it resolved by the Senate,

That in the death of Mr. Frazer the community has lost a good citizen, and the Senate an able and efficient member.

That we sincerely condole with his afflicted family in their sore bereavement.

That as a token of our regard to his memory, the Senate do now adjourn until 10 o'clock Wednesday morning; and that a copy of these resolutions be furnished the family of the deceased.

Pending the adoption of the resolutions, Mr. Huston paid a handsome tribute to the memory of Mr. Frazer, saying he had been a school-mate, had seen the deceased Senator when at college, bear off high honors for qualities of the heart as well as for attainments in learning. He had known him in the early days of this country when Mr Frazer had been a pioneer; and in all stations, all conditions, he had been a man to respect and love.

The resolutions were declared adopted and the Senate adjourned.

There voting for Mr. Chenoweth were Messrs. Brents, Cole, Davis, Day, Garlick, Garrett, Gingles, Hetman, Hinman, Lamson, Laughlin, Locey, Lockhart, Melvin, McKean, Nicklin, Olney, Parris, Roland, Rosenheim, Starkweather, Stouffer, Upton, White, Witzel, Whittaker—28.

Mr. Chenoweth was declared duly elected, and on taking the chair said:

Gentlemen of the House of Representatives—I thank you for the honor you have conferred upon me in selecting me to preside over your deliberations. The encomiums of this mark of your confidence will certainly always be cherished by me, and in assuming the position I do not do it as a legal claim it simply as an honor, but I realize that before me are important and weighty duties, and that before us all there arise the duties which our constituents and our country have placed upon us. I shall endeavor with a firm resolution to meet whatever responsibilities may devolve upon me, in a spirit of justice and fidelity, and with the very best of my ability, with a view to promoting the good of our country. I am glad that so large organized with so much good feeling and trust that all our deliberations may be characterized by a proper spirit of decorum. I can promise you that I will endeavor to discharge the duties of the chair with impartiality, but you may frequently have to bear with me in unintentional errors. I feel confident that your good nature and forbearance will be extended toward me, and that you will assist me in the discharge of the duties you have thrown upon me. I will not detain you longer. [Applause.]

The organization was then completed by the election of T. McP. Patton chief clerk; John Boon, assistant clerk; Irwin Fleghart enrolling clerk; C. E. Monteith, engrossing clerk; James Gordon, Sergeant-at-Arms; and John Baltimore, door-keeper.

Messages were received from the Senate announcing the organization of that body, the appointment of a committee to wait upon the Governor, and a committee on joint rules.

The usual resolutions to provide the members with stationery and newspapers, invite members of the press within the bar of the House, and to inform the Senate of the organization of the House, were adopted. Messrs. Olney, Whittaker and White were appointed committee to wait upon the Governor and inform him of the readiness of the House to hear any communication he may wish to make.

Mr. HUMASON offered a resolution inviting George Nerby and J. M. Methey, who claim seats, to occupy the seats of the Grant county members, to remain upon the floor.

Mr. HELM gave notice that C. H. Burch and —— Semples will contest the seats now occupied by Messrs. Lewellin and Lamson of Yamhill county.

Mr. UPTON gave notice that Wm. Dodson would contest the seat of Mr. Dempsey from Polk.

Mr. HUMASON gave notice of the Grant county contest.

Mr. OLNEY gave notice that J. L. Collins would contest the seat of Mr. Hall from Polk county.

Mr. DODGE offered a resolution that no member whose seat is contested should be allowed to vote upon any question directly or indirectly concerning such contest. It was opposed by Messrs. Olney, Upton and others on the ground that there is already a resolution covering the case, and it was advocated by Messrs. Dodge, Humason, Cox and others. Made the special order for 10 o'clock tomorrow.

On motion at 12:25 M., adjourned till 9 o'clock tomorrow.

Harry Jackson makes an excellent Clown, being witty without vulgarity, and clever in the general acceptance of the term."—San. Bee.

A new feature in the entertainments, was the appearance of Harry Jackson, the Comedian, as Clown. We award Jackson the credit of being an unusually fresh jester, with a good stock of stories, witticisms, apt quotations and practical jokes. His imitations of Bandman, Rean and Forrest were close and amusing, acknowledged by the public to be the most elaborate seen of Mossus since the days of the far-famed Walker."—San. Union.

MEETING OF THE COMMON COUNCIL.—The regular weekly meeting of the Common Council was held last evening at 8 o'clock, Mayor Failing in the Chair

The following members were present—Messrs Carson Bullock, Lownsdale, O'Connor and Tolver

The records of the previous meeting were read and approved.

Mayor Failing returned with the approval an ordinance, accompanied by the following message:

To the Honorable the Common Council

I herewith return without my approval the Ordinance to repeal Ordinance No 334, entitled an Ordinance to amend Ordinance No 100 entitled an Ordinance to regulate licenses in the city of Portland

Ordinance No 334 which the ordinance repeals provides that before license shall issue to any person or persons to retail spirituous or malt liquors the applicant shall file with the Auditor a bond to be approved by the Mayor in the sum of $500 conditioned that he or they will, during the continuance of such license, keep a quiet and orderly house and will not permit or suffer any female to be employed in or about such house or resort thereto; and will not permit or suffer any illegal practices or conduct in or about such house.

The repealing ordinance was carried by a majority of the Board of Auditors of Health and Police upon a petition referred to them for the repeal of ordinance No 334, numerously signed by petitioners stating that they believed that the ordinance had been an injury to the public good, that by it certain classes are excluded from rights and privileges granted to others; that in no way has the traffic in intoxicating liquors, that crime is not prevented by it, that it had closed up various places of business, thereby depriving property holders of rents and profits, and thereby of revenue

It does not appear that the Committee made any inquiry into the effect of the ordinance upon the peace and good order of society or its effect upon the revenue, as report was made by ordinance only

The statements of the petitioners concerning the presence of crimes, and the diminution of city revenues, are at variance with the record of the City Court, and it is actual revenue derived from licences as appears by the Auditor's books.

The issue of licenses under ordinance No 334 commenced on the 1st of July last. The 321 cases of the first quarter ending 1st July and August was fifteen per cent less than for May and June. The income from licenses from 1st July to date, has been over fifteen per cent greater than for the entire quarter preceding.

The ordinance was passed for the special purpose of enforcing order and tranquility in the streets from places where liquors are sold at retail and in the statement of petitioners that various places of business have been closed we have no objection that the purpose of the ordinance has been fully accomplished. I believe that closing the places of "loafing" referred to by the petitioners has caused crime, and had a salutary effect upon society

While I do not admit that either revenue to property holders or to the city treasury, is to be considered paramount to the maintenance of good order, and the prevention of crime, I am of the opinion that the tax payers are fully remunerated for any loss of rents on occasion of the repeal of ordinance No. 334, by the diminished expenditure for costs of Police and Recorder's Court.

When the repealing ordinance was under debate it was assumed by one or more of your body who disclaimed any sympathy with persons who kept disorderly houses, that the provision in Ordinance No 334, exacting a bond with sureties in the sum of five hundred dollars from the applicants for license, and the forfeiture or penalty already adjudged, and in violation of section 33, subdivision 22, of the City Charter, which limits a forfeiture or penalty to a sum not exceeding two hundred dollars, and also because the amount exacted the sum was beyond the law has been enforced in an action before the Recorder

The validity of this ordinance has already been sustained by the Circuit Court, and I am unable to see why the Council cannot, under the power granted in Section 22, subdivision 4, "to license, tax, regulate and restrain taverns, tenet houses and conditions of license, as well as to require a bond of any city official for the faithful discharge of his duties. This is a legal question, however, and being in the absence of the City Attorney, I have been unable to avail myself of his counsel, or ascertain whether the point was brought to the notice of the Circuit Court in the trial of the case referred to, but inclined to the opinion that the exaction of a bond is not providing a forfeiture especially when the wording of the section referred to.

I therefore recommend that before repealing an ordinance which has so fully answered the purposes for which it was framed, further inquiry be made as to the legal objections made to the ordinance. If it be found that the provision requiring bond is in violation of the Charter, the bond may be amended by reducing the sum to $500.

However, if it be established that the ordinance is valid, and the sum of the bond can be recovered in the Circuit Court, I recommend that provision be made by law for the punishment before the Recorder, of any person holding a license for the sale of liquors at retail, and convicted of violating any of the provisions of Ordinance No 334.

I also find that ordinance No 334 be so amended as to allow the City Auditor to approve all bonds filed of applicants for license. HENRY FAILING.

Mayor's Office, Oregon, Sept. 12th, 1866

The ordinance was then placed upon its final passage, and

Upon the call of the ayes and nays the following, to wit: Messrs Carson, Bullock, Lownsdale, O'Connor and Tolver, voted in the affirmative, and Messrs Failing and Ladd in the negative, the ordinance was declared passed, notwithstanding the objections of the Mayor.

The petition from Street Commissioner Davis, relative to the old court-house building, now being removed, and to the street, was referred to the Judiciary Committee.

The petition from the same officer relative to the [illegible] street sewer, was referred to the committee on [illegible]

Mr. Neal & Co. for right to construct water main way, on block 3, Couch's addition, was refused.

The Chief Engineer and the committee on fire and [illegible] were instructed to act as they deemed best in the matter of putting out the fire yet burning in the ruins of the North Portland steam saw mill

Petition of H. Sazer and others for a sewer at the corner of D and North First streets, was referred.

Petition from A. Dodge, Foreman of Columbia Engine Co. No 3, relative to hose, was referred.

An estimate of the cost of improving B street, as presented, assessing $8,50%, and of improving Front street as per bridge, $2,490, were received from Surveyor Burrell and referred.

Warrants were ordered in payment of claims as follows: J L Pittock, advertising, $2; C. Hopkins, use of wharf, $25; Simons work on streets, $6 50, Samuel Simons, services as Street Commissioner, $230; E. J. Northrup, $10, [illegible], furnished dredger, $588 [illegible]

Council adjourned.

BRIGHAM YOUNG AND HIS HAREM.—Or an authentic history of Brigham Young, his numerous wives and children, by Mrs. C. V. Waite

In reviewing the above work at length, the Pittsburg Gazette has the following language, which we quote: "The tithing system, rigidly enforced, supplies Brigham Young with ample funds for his purposes. Besides this he conducts various kinds of business, and shares his gains in the profits of that system of robbery and murder which his agents have carried on, since first they passed on Independence Rock. The emigrant trains crossing the Territory of California. Perhaps the most production of the [illegible] was that which included the famous Mountain Meadows, in which one hundred and thirty men, women and children were treacherously and brutally slain for the sake of the property that they had left in their trains. Of the Prophet's responsibility for the evidence exists in the city where he rules, and in the breath of this and of his power betrays the people. He is far more a King than a Prophet among them of late, and shows far more concern about secular than spiritual affairs, even according to his ideas of the latter. Considerations are appealed to but little in the form of terror and that chiefly to enforce compliance with his wishes in relation to money and marriage

CORRECTION.—We have frequently referred attention to the substance, which is annually formed in times of high water in this section of the country and which is left after the water has left it, rendering it very valuable land, in this sheets not very greatly in excess of cotton batting. Its use as a substitute for [illegible] has been demonstrated by several who have made bed comfortables from it, and is said for other purposes it is now being adopted

Mr. [illegible] has a sample of this substance in our city, which were raised in the Sandwich, and will be taken to Oregon City to-day, where it will be tried as a material for the making of paper. This lot was gathered near the mouth of the Willamette river.

IN DEMAND.—A late citizen of Victoria, on being asked why a number of Commerce and citizens of that place left, said each great exertions' to investigate crowd of subject to Big Bend, on their limited knowledge of those mines? answered by saying that the citizens were not particular whether the thing were or lost. Knowing that they had all to gain they relied upon the prospect of a week to dance on gold in paying quantities, and felt that it was dig or die, with the crowd

FIRE DRILL.—At half past 12 o'clock yesterday the Fire D[illegible] was called out to stop a fire which had caught from a deposit of ashes near a wooden building on the lot at the corner of Washington and First street or from some other cause. The fire was annihilated by the application of water in buckets and the services of the Fire Department was not necessary. Companies 3 and 1 had taken position, however, and were ready to play away when the order was given to take up

VOTE BY THE ORDINANCE.—We recommend a careful perusal of the message of Mayor Failing to be found in the Council proceedings this morning, as showing the grounds upon which he bases the veto of the Ordinance repealing Ordinance No 334. It is just such a document as all sober, sensible and well disposed citizens will listen to and

ON PAINTINGS.—Two splendid oil paintings, one of Ross Peak and the other of Napoleon Bonaparte, are now on exhibition at Kilbourn's auction rooms. They will be disposed of soon.

GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE.

STATE OF OREGON, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
Salem, Oregon, Sept. 11th 1865.

Gentlemen of the Senate and House of Representatives:

The passing year has been one of general health and prosperity, for which we should be grateful to Almighty God. No pestilence or famine has visited our borders; our granaries are full and abundance greets us on every hand. Notwithstanding the Indian troubles of an extraordinary character in the eastern part of the State, our mining camps have been extended and the minor has been as well rewarded as in former years.

It appears to me that there is not very much legislation needed at this session of the Legislature, and I have but few recommendations to make. As a matter of the greatest importance I recommend the adoption of the amendment to the Constitution of the United States proposed by the Thirty-ninth Congress, which is herewith transmitted. I reiterate what I said in my last message upon the subject of a registry law, and recommend that such a law be passed to prevent fraudulent and illegal voting. The frequent and extensive depredations committed by the Indians in Eastern Oregon call for decisive and efficient action on the part of the general government. It will cost no more at the present than at any future time to bring the marauding bands of Indians to terms and compel them to remain on reservations, while, to permit a continuation of their depredations upon our fellow citizens, is not only a great tax upon their pecuniary interests, but is also endangering their lives by withholding from them that protection which the government owes the citizen in return for his allegiance. The Oregon volunteers and the regulars in the field during the last year rendered gallant and efficient service—labored hard and endured many privations, but their numbers were entirely too small to chastise an enemy roaming at will over a large extent of country so well adapted to his peculiar mode of warfare. Two wagon roads have been completed within the last year across the Cascade mountains to the open country beyond. They were constructed with a view to furnishing a more direct market for the surplus products of the great Willamette valley at Boise City and Owyhee, but neither route can be used on account of the hostility of the Indians in the interior. I therefore recommend that a committee be appointed to prepare a memorial to the general government setting forth the facts fully and praying for the necessary relief.

I respectfully call your attention to the able reports of the Commissioners and Superintendent of the Penitentiary herewith transmitted. I could add nothing of importance to them without repetition. Suffice it to say that I fully concur in the recommendations therein made.

Since the last session of the Legislature three thousand copies of the laws of Oregon, with convenient annotations and an extended index, have been published. The work is a credit to the State and to all concerned in its preparation. The copies intended for distribution to the State officers have been furnished and the remainder of the edition is for sale at cost with ten per cent added, so that the laws of Oregon are now within the reach of all.

INSANE ASYLUM,

The amount of money paid for taking care of the insane and idiotic during the last two years, is sixty-five thousand, two hundred and sixty-seven dollars and twenty-eight cents, ($65,267.28). On the first day of October, 1864, the Legislature passed a law directing the Governor to contract with Drs. Hawthorne & Loryea for the safe keeping, care and medical treatment of all such insane and idiotic persons as should be sent to the Insane Asylum under any law of this State; that said contract should extend for a term of four years and two months, and that the price for each patient per week, should not exceed ten dollars. Drs. Hawthorne & Loryea were necessarily the only bidders, and would not close the contract for a less price than ten dollars per week. Of course the contract had to be awarded to them, but since the closing of the contract, Dr. Hawthorne has been absent from the State more than three-fourths of the time, and is now absent, and no physician has been employed in his stead. The left wing of the building is now completed and it presents a comely and commodious appearance.

It has always been my understanding that when the building should be completed, a yard would be made enclosing one-half an acre of ground, including a pleasant, shady grove for the use of the inmates of the Asylum. In this anticipation all have thus far been disappointed, as the new yard is entirely too small for the health and comfort of even ten persons. Probably there is no place connected with the institution where the patients can receive anything like enough pure and healthful exercise in the open air. In my message of 1863, I took occasion to say:

"It appears to me that there is no special reason why the insane and idiotic should be treated together in the same institution, and the idiotic can be well cared for at less expense, in the counties where they reside. The risk incurred, will not exceed that now, generally, are not so great as for the insane."

Had the Legislature taken the same view of the subject, and not admitted the idiotic, we had provisions been made for feeding them at an expense corresponding to their trouble, many thousands dollars would have been saved to the State. No pains whatever is taken to cultivate their minds or to improve their condition.

The Directors of the Asylum for the deaf, dumb and blind in California, offered to take charge of such person, board, clothe, and teach them for two dollars and fifty cents per week. I see no reason why the care of the idiotic should cost more. One person now in our Asylum as idiotic, and who is also deaf and dumb, has tested as an assistant cook in the Asylum where he has been there, and in that capacity has earned the proprietors not less than forty dollars a month, while the State, at the same time, has been paying forty dollars a month for taking care of him. Other instances might be cited where patients have worked on the farm and more than paid their entire expenses. All the washing and ironing for the institution is done by the patients. The entire working of the contracting system has satisfied me of the wisdom of the recommendation I had the honor to make to the Legislature in 1862, as follows:

"It is the duty of the State to make permanent provision for their care (that of the insane, etc.,) and medical treatment, and also for the deaf and blind as soon as the wealth and condition of the country will permit. At an early day, while lands are cheap, good locations should be selected upon which Asylums can be built by convict labor or otherwise, as the wisdom of the Legislature may direct."

And again in 1864 as follows:

"The true policy of the State requires that at some future day an Asylum be built at the expense of the State, to be under the exclusive control of the Legislative Assembly and officers appointed for that purpose by the members thereof. For that purpose, a tract of good land should be secured at an early day upon which the same should be erected."

The Constitution wisely requires that all public buildings shall be erected at the Capital. In view of that fact the Commissioners appointed for the purpose, have selected and purchased a site for the Asylum at Salem. The location is an eligible one, and is paid for.

By far, the most burdensome tax on the property of the State, is the amount required for the support of the insane and idiotic. As it is, I am deeply impressed with the conviction that the system of contracting with private parties for the care of these unfortunates is essentially vicious and unreasonably burdensome on the finances of the State. It is a reasonable calculation that hereafter one in every thousand of the whole population of the State will be an inmate of some institution for the insane. I am satisfied that of the whole number of the inmates, at least twenty-five per cent.—made up of those who are but partially idiotic, those who have spells of insanity with long lucid intervals, and those who are convalescing—will be able to work; doing light farm work, raising vegetables, and attending to the dairy, producing not only enough for themselves, but also for others; keeping the institution cleanly and the grounds well policed; doing the washing, ironing and sewing necessary around such an establishment. In view of these considerations it is evident that the Legislature should commence and complete one wing of the asylum upon the ground selected at Salem at as early a day as the finances of the State will permit, and in time to enable the same to be occupied as soon as the present contract with Drs. Hawthorne & Loryea expires—the first day of December, 1868. The convicts in the Penitentiary can make the brick for one wing of the Penitentiary and one wing of the Asylum during the coming season. But it should be borne in mind that while the convicts are thus employed they will be doing nothing to replenish the treasury. It may be well to consider whether or not it would be best to have wooden buildings erected which would answer the purpose for the present, and when better buildings are erected the former can be used for barns, store-houses and work-shops. In Illinois the insane are kept at an expense of not more than two dollars a week, and there is no reason why it should cost more than three or three and a half dollars per week here, after the buildings are erected. It is evidently improper that a system should be long continued, in which the physician who holds in his hands the liberties of numbers of persons who have a large pecuniary interest in dictating whether they should go or stay—in deciding what they shall wear, or what should be the kind and nature of the food provided for them. His salary should be fixed, and he should be the character of the good physician, with nothing to influence him but humanity for the afflicted and the interests of the State.

There is a small amount due from the State to Doctors Bisnp and Wilson, for their services while acting as Visiting Physicians to the Asylum. An appropriation was once made to pay them, but by mistake the amount was not sufficient. Their claims are just and should be paid, as per their accounts filed with the Secretary of State.

EDUCATIONAL.

The following table presents a condensed summary of statistics of the common schools of this State, based upon the reports of the County School Superintendents. The statistics for 1864 are also given here, in order to present a comparative view of the progress and condition of our educational interests during the period since the last regular session of the Legislature:

	1864.	1865.	Increase.
Total No. persons from 5 to 20 years old	15,679	28,110	7,431
Total No. Districts in the State	422	509	87
Total No. School houses	341	433	92
Total value School Houses	$78,682	132,903	54,221
Total No. Teachers	302	499	197
Average attendance pupils in State		11,144

These statistics would be more satisfactory if all the Superintendents had taken due pains in making out their reports. I have received no reports for this year from the Superintendents of Jackson and Lane counties, and none for 1865 from those of Baker, Clatsop, Douglas, Union and Wasco counties. In most cases the infancies and the Superintendents of Schools in the counties are too small to justify them in giving that attention to the duties of their offices which is requisite to the health of our educational interests. They depend in great part for their information upon the reports of District Clerks, which are often wanting in fullness and accuracy. Sometimes, too, men are elected Superintendents of Schools who are unfitted for such positions. A few of the reports forwarded to this office manifest a sad want of judgment and a sadder want of interest and want of care on the part of Superintendents. Some omit one thing and others another, so that from all the reports it is difficult to get a satisfactory knowledge of the condition of our schools. Hence all intelligent calculations for the advancement of our educational interests must be based to some extent upon vitiated fundamental facts.

These figures furnish some valuable facts, which it may be well to notice. The number of children in the State are reported at 26,170, and the number of school-houses at 433—showing that each school-house is expected to accommodate over fifty children. The increase in the number of persons of school-age is 7,431, and in the number of school-houses 92. That is a school room for every 80 pupils! There are 509 school districts in the State, and 433 school-houses, leaving 56 districts without houses. Although this is a better showing than some of our sister States can make, and it is to some extent pardonable to the sparseness of our population, it is nevertheless an unjustifiable failure to meet the wants of the rising generation.

The average value of school-houses is a little over $300 each, or about five dollars for each pupil. Surely it cannot be expected that houses of an average value of only $300 each are fitting places for fifty or sixty children to study, especially during the long, wet winters incident to this State. When it is remembered that the rainy or winter season lasts from five to six months of the year, and that during all that time the children of our farmers can do little at home, it will be seen how important it is that districts should be provided with comfortable houses that this time may be duly improved in the cultivation of the heads and hearts of those who are soon to take our places in the active arena of life. So far as my own observation has extended, I have been forcibly impressed that, as to situation, construction, arrangement and furnishing the school-houses of this State, with some laudable exceptions, are in a deplorable condition. In many of them there is not only a want of taste and comfort, but also of the necessary furniture and a due regard to health. The associations which surround a school-room affect in no small degree the characters of those who attend them. The school-house itself with its surroundings, scarcely less than the teacher, are educators exerting a powerful influence for good or evil. It will not be disputed that a due respect for the proprieties of life, the cultivation of the taste and love of order constitute an important element in the education of youth. How, then, can it be doubted that the location and arrangement of school-houses and school grounds in accordance with these principles should be an object of primary importance? In addition to these considerations of education there are sanitary reasons which should induce the greatest care in the construction of school-houses. There is generally very little attention paid by those who build our school-houses to the most important hygienic and metaphysical laws such as due precaution against imperfect ventilation, proper regulations for uniformity of heat etc. As the best means, in my judgment, for remedying these evils, it is suggested as a matter well worthy of your consideration, whether a careful preparation of plans suited to the different classes of schools, together with specifications and estimates of cost, might not be authorized and published for distribution to the various districts of the State. Money spent on unhealthy and unsightly school-houses, like that expended for bad books and incompetent teachers, is the worst kind of waste. Is it not, therefore, plain that a proper consideration for economy, as well as a due regard for the welfare of our youth, should induce a speedy reform in this respect?

In my biennial message for 1864, I took occasion to recommend the revision of the school law and the creation of an independent Department of Public Instruction, under the care of a Superintendent as provided in the Constitution. I cannot refrain from again calling attention to this subject and urging that this much needed legislation be not unnecessarily delayed. The magnitude of the interests concerned, the wretched condition of our present common school system with its unsuitable buildings, its many incompetent teachers, its defective and varied text-books and its delinquent and careless district officers—all these and many other considerations alike of economy and duty imperatively urged to the consummation of this indispensable measure of reform.

"The first object of a free people," says Daniel Webster, "is the preservation of their liberty." In a constitutional republic like ours, where the people are not only theoretically the source of power, but are actually called upon to administer the laws, it is evident that the safety of our free government is dependent upon the intelligent virtue of the people. All our forms of constitutional law are changed at will by public opinion. If the public opinion should be ignorant, designing demagogues will warp it to suit their own partisan wishes. If it should become demoralized, we shall be at the mercy of bad public officers, and of course our government will be bad. Every voter who does not understand the questions upon which he votes is liable to be made the tool and dupe of unscrupulous office-seekers. Any citizen may be called upon to act as a juror. Questions of the utmost importance—of reputation and fortune, even life and death—are subject to his decision. The duties and responsibilities of our citizens are of the most important nature and call upon us for the greatest care in preparing to meet them properly. And it must be remembered that, unlike our laws and property, the intellectual and moral qualifications necessary to constitute the intelligent citizen, cannot be transmitted to our children. They must be acquired by each succeeding generation. The chief duty, then, of a civilized community is to preserve and increase that intelligence and virtue which constitute its life and strength. Without an efficient system of common schools, carrying its blessings to the home of every citizen, it is idle to hope for universal education. "We do not, indeed, expect all men to be philosophers or statesmen," as Webster truly says, "but we confidently trust, and our expectation of the duration of our system of Government rests on that trust, that by the diffusion of general knowledge and good and virtuous sentiments, the political fabric may be secure as well against open violence and overthrow, as against that slow but sure undermining of licentiousness." But an efficient system of schools is an interest so vast in its aims and so complicated in its details that nothing less than a perfect organization with its wise division of labor and the supervising and directing energy of a competent head can compass its benign purposes and secure its great results.

But it is not desirable to enter into an extended discussion of this subject in this place. With the facts of our own educational condition staring us in the face and with a bright example and happy experience of so many of our sister States to guide us, it would seem almost criminal to further delay this reform. As there is no limit to the capacities of a good educational system, so there is no limit to the labor which may be done for its development, and to be liberal to such a cause is to be both economical and wise. Every dollar unnecessarily withheld from a judicious expenditure for the advancement of our educational interests is a tax upon the future welfare of our young State.

Further information in relation to our schools will be found in the following abstract of the reports of County School Superintendents, received at this office for the year 1865:

IMMIGRATION.

Heretofore I have called the attention of the Legislature to the importance of greater facilities for, and competition in inter-communication. Railroads are needed in different sections of the State. To accomplish these objects we must depend more upon ourselves than upon foreign capital. At present there is not sufficient population and wealth in the State to begin and push forward these much needed improvements to a speedy completion. What is most needed is an intelligent and industrious immigration. The agricultural and mineral resources of the State are comparatively undeveloped for the want of population, labor and capital. Excellent iron ore is found in vast quantities in many places. The soil in our valleys is rich and fertile, and capable of producing fruits and all the grains and grasses in the greatest abundance. The State abounds in fine timber and living streams of water. It has a mild and healthful climate, and to every respect presents facilities for an easy and profitable agriculture while an abundance of water power, which never freezes, furnishes the means of manufacturing on the largest scale and cheapest terms. In most of the counties the population is yet quite sparse, and it is not too much to say that the State can support, in ease and comfort, a population of ten times our present numbers. In many of the States Bureaus of Immigration have been established, and agents sent to the New England States and to Europe to furnish information and assist persons seeking homes "in the West." While engaged in erecting the public buildings, now so much needed, it may not be policy to go to that expense, but it has occurred to me that this Legislature might direct a pamphlet to be prepared, at the expense of the State, giving a description of the State and its natural advantages to immigrants, which should be printed in English and German and circulated among those who would be most likely to be pleased with the natural advantages of our young and growing State. The Executive office should be supplied with a number of such pamphlets for distribution in answer to inquiries. During last year I have received and answered many letters asking information in regard to the resources of our State.

MILITIA.

The Adjutant General has made a very full and complete report upon the State militia, as well as upon the subject of the Oregon Volunteers, who have been in the service during the past four years. It also gives a detailed statement as to who have been entitled to and received State Bonds. Your attention is respectfully called to the same.

FINANCIAL.

The financial condition of the State fully appears in the reports of the State Treasurer and Secretary of State. It affords me pleasure to state that there is forty-three thousand eight hundred and eleven dollars and thirty-six cents ($43,811 36-100ths), in the treasury, and no debts or liabilities against the State, excepting Soldiers' Bonds, due eight and eighteen years hence. There is also due the State from the several delinquent counties over thirty thousand dollars. It is to be hoped that these amounts will soon be paid, as the expense of building the penitentiary, of the Legislature and the public printing will soon exhaust the amount on hand.

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.
DEPARTMENT OF STATE.

To all, whom these presents shall come, Greetings:

I certify, That annexed is a true copy of a Concurrent Resolution of Congress, entitled "Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the United States;" the original of which resolution, received to-day, is on file in this Department.

In testimony whereof I, William H. Seward, Secretary of State of the United States, have hereunto subscribed my name and caused the Seal of the Department of State to be affixed.

Done at the City of Washington, this sixteenth day of June, A. D. 1866, and of the Independence of the United States of America the ninetieth. (Signed) WM. H. SEWARD.

JOINT RESOLUTION PROPOSING AN AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES.

Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled (two-thirds of both houses concurring), That the following article be proposed to the Legislatures of the several States as an amendment to the Constitution of the United States, which, when ratified by three-fourths of said Legislatures, shall be valid as part of the Constitution, namely:

ARTICLE XIV.

SECTION 1. All persons born or naturalized in the United States, and subject to the jurisdiction thereof, are citizens of the United States and of the State wherein they reside. No State shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shall any State deprive any person of life, liberty or property without due process of law, nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws.

SEC. 2. Representatives shall be apportioned among the several States according to their respective numbers, counting the whole number of persons in each State, excluding Indians not taxed. But when the right to vote at any election for the choice of electors for President and Vice President of the United States, Representatives in Congress, the executive and judicial officers of a State, or the members of the Legislature thereof, is denied to any of the male inhabitants of such State, being twenty-one years of age, and citizens of the United States, or in any way abridged, except for participation in rebellion or other crime, the basis of representation therein shall be reduced in the proportion which the number of such male citizens shall bear to the whole number of male citizens twenty-one years of age in such State.

SEC. 3. No person shall be a Senator or Representative in Congress, or elector of President and Vice President, or hold any office, civil or military, under the United States, or under any State, who, having previously taken an oath, as a member of Congress, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State Legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, shall have engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the same, or given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof. But Congress may, by a vote of two-thirds of each House, remove such disability.

SEC. 4. The validity of the public debt of the United States, authorized by law, including debts incurred for payment of pensions and bounties for services in suppressing insurrection or rebellion, shall not be questioned. But neither the United States nor any State shall assume to pay any debt or obligation incurred in aid of insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or any claim for the loss or emancipation of any slave; but all such debts, obligations, and claims shall be held illegal and void.

SEC. 5. The Congress shall have power to enforce, by appropriate legislation, the provisions of this article.
